1. PURPOSE
   (i) The Coursework Progress Policy aims to provide a framework to guide decisions about the academic performance and progress of coursework students and to provide guidelines for fair and transparent processes for those decisions.
   (ii) The policy also sets out the College’s obligations to international students in coursework awards under the National Code 2007 Standard 10.

2. SCOPE
   This policy applies to all undergraduate and postgraduate coursework students at Moore College. It applies to both domestic and international students. The policy does not apply to research higher degree students (RHD). The academic progress of RHD students is monitored under the Research Higher Degree Progress Procedure.

4. Policy Statement

5.1. General Principles

(i) The policy seeks to ensure that all students benefit from the care inherent in the College values in a way that will enhance the student experience and prospects of achieving their desired personal and educational outcomes.

(ii) Moore College requires each student to make satisfactory academic progress through their course.

(iii) The progress of each student is monitored, recorded and assessed.

(iv) The College may determine different progress requirements for different courses.

(v) The policy is implemented within the bounds of the Privacy Policy.

(vi) While the College monitors all students for satisfactory course progress, it has particular legislated responsibilities under the ESOS Act in regard to international students.

(vii) Moore College must report international students under Section 19 of the ESOS Act who have breached course progress requirements.

5.2. Information for Students

(i) Students have access to policies and procedures regarding academic performance and progress on the College website.

(ii) The requirements for successfully completing a unit of study are stated in each unit syllabus available on the College learning management system.

(iii) The requirements for course progress are stated in the Student Handbook available on the College website.

5.3. Monitoring Academic Progress

(i) The College regularly reviews student progress, reviewing both student academic and pastoral matters.

(ii) Academic progress is monitored by the various academic committees.

(iii) A student’s pastoral and personal situation is monitored by the pastoral division of the College.

5.4. Academic Progress

(i) An intervention strategy is activated when a student is considered at risk of not progressing in their course.

(ii) Pastoral, compassionate and other personal circumstances may put a student at risk of not progressing.

(iii) Normally a student who has failed more than two units during the study period may be considered at risk of not progressing.

(iv) Under the ESOS Act an international student is considered at risk of unsatisfactory progress where, at minimum, he or she has failed or is deemed not yet competent in 50 percent or more of the units attempted in any study period.
5.5. Intervention and Support Strategies
   (i) Students considered at risk are reported to the various academic committees and monitored on a continuing basis.
   (ii) The College offers academic and pastoral support and gives the student an opportunity to meet the course requirements.
   (iii) Support strategies may include pastoral counselling, academic skills support, revised assessment schedule, reduced study load.

5.6. Circumstances Affecting Decisions
   The College considers any mitigating circumstances when reviewing a student’s academic progress. These circumstances may include, but are not limited to:
   (i) medical, compassionate and other compelling reasons,
   (ii) regulatory and legislative requirements for international students on student visas,
   (iii) that if a student defers their course for a period of time, the requirements of this policy apply to the teaching period following return to studies.

5.7. Consequences of Failure to Progress
   When it is determined that a student is not progressing through their course, despite intervention and support strategies, the consequences may include some or all of the following actions.
   (i) There is further follow up offering advice and support.
   (ii) The College may request a student to show cause why their enrolment may not be terminated if their academic progress has been determined as unsatisfactory despite intervention strategies.
   (iii) The student’s enrolment in their course may be terminated.
   (iv) Where the student is an international student and where Moore College has assessed the student as not achieving satisfactory course progress, Moore College will notify the student in writing of its intention to report the student for not achieving satisfactory course progress. The written notice will inform the student that he or she is able to access Moore College's External Dispute Resolution Policy (International Students) and that the student has 20 working days in which to do so.
       The College will notify the Secretary of the Department of Education through PRISMS of the student not achieving satisfactory progress after the appeals process
       (if actioned) is finalised and upholds the College’s decision to report.

5.8. Appeals
   (i) A student may appeal a decision made under this policy in accordance with the Academic Grievance (Appeals) Policy or the External Dispute Resolution Policy (International Students)
   (ii) A student’s failure to read or act upon any communication or notice from the College is not considered grounds for appeal under this policy.
5.9 Additional information necessary for carrying out or complying with this policy is detailed in a separate procedure.
